PROGRESSIVES HOLD PRIMARIES TONIGHT

City and County Districts Will Elect Delegates to State Convention at Ogden.

RACE TO HEAD TICKET

Stephen H. Love Said to Be Actively Working for Gubernatorial Nomination.

hold primaries in Salt Lake City and county tonight for the selection of delecounty tonight for the selection of dele-grates to the "Bull Moose" state conven-tion to be held at Ogden next Friday night. Every district in Salt Lake City has been organized and many of the dis-fricts of the county have temporary or-ganizations. In addition to selecting delegates to the state convention, the Progressives of each district will select a permanent chairman and secretary and a district campaign committee.

Much Talk of Love.

Much Talk of Love.

The Progressives, it is said, are taking a keen interest in the primaries and a large number will attend them tonight. The principal interest in the state convention, aside from the address of Colonel Roosevelt, will lie in the choice of the Progressives for the gubernatorial nomination. It is understood that Stephen H. Love, recently a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is an active candidate for the Progressive nomination. Nephi L. Morris is also an active candidate for the progressive nomination. Nephi L. Morris is also an active candidate for the nomination and is being backed by a large number in Sait Lake for this place. Weber county Progressives will urge the candidates bave been suggested. There appears to be considerable sentiment favorable to J. L. Lewinsohn of Sait Lake and W. D. Livingston of Sanpete for the congressional nominations. William Glasmann of Weber, Louis Larsen of Sampete and George N. Lawrence of Sait Lake are also considered congressional possibilities. Mr. Larsen and Mr. Lawrence are also mentioned as candidates for attorney general.

New Apartment Building.

The Holland apartment house, located at the southwest intersection of West Temple and Fourth South streets, is completed except for interior finishing, and the men are now at work on this.

By the end of this week the old Cheesman residence on the opposite corner to the east will have been removed, to make place for a three-story brick and concrete store and living apartment building. As soon as the old house shall have been carted away the work of construction on the new building is to begin.

Dr. A. E. Rykert's new apartment hotel, situated on the northeast corner of Fourth South and West Temple streets, is almost up to its complete height of three stories. Before the week is out the work of putting on the roof will begin. The building is called "The Shubrick, and its ground floor is to accommodate stores, while the two upper stories will be devoted to the most modern form of living apartments.

On the corner of Cactus and Fourth South streets the Derrah building, in which provision is made for four stores, is finished with the exception of the glass fronts and the final painting.

For the evening parade and electrical pageant the congress will engage four or five local bands, taking every available union band musician in the city. In addition to these bands it is expected that the Twentieth infantry band will accompany the troops, and that the Utah National Guard will have its own band. Price and Spanish Fork have already agreed to send their bands for this occasion and other cities are expected to follow suit.

A special orchestra will be engaged for the reception at the Commercial club following the parade, and another large orchestra under the direction of Professor McClalian will play at the reception and ball to be given at the Hotel Utah Thursday evening.

Thursday evening.

Other matters considered by the board of control included a report by W. H. Shearman, chairman of the entertainment committee. This committee proposes to arrange for a series of side trips and excursions that will include a trip to Saltair and a trip over the Emigration Canyon railroad. Arrangements for the reception and ball will also be left to this committee. The plans for entertainment of the Queen of Irrigation and her maids of honor include a theater party at one of the local playhouses.
